WIA E-NEWSLETTER

May 2012

Volume 3

The unemployment rate in L.A. County was 12.3% in May 2011. One year later it has gone down to 11.4%!

Special Thanks to our Providers and Partners including others such as local WIBs, community colleges and employers. We appreciate your commitment to serving businesses and jobseekers, and to increasing our coordination and collaboration so that we can better meet the employment and training needs of important priorities such as Veterans, Foster Youth and re-entry youth and adults. The partnerships we have established prove that we have the vision and commitment to meet the unique employment and training challenges in the nation's largest county.

At its May Quarterly Board Meeting, the L.A. County WIB elected new officers for 2012-14:

Jerry Gaines, WIB Chair

Paul Kral, Vice Chair

Mike Patel, Secretary

Richard Dell, Treasurer

COMMUNITY COLLEGE COLLABORATION

A stronger partnership on workforce development and training initiatives is a bold new strategic direction for both the Workforce Investment Act (WIA) and higher education systems. The L.A. County Workforce Investment Board (WIB) is committed to increasing our collaboration with community colleges and college districts throughout the county to improve regional coordination of our respective and shared workforce development and training, particularly in light of SB734 training requirements.

Our Santa Clarita WorkSource Center (satellite to Antelope Valley WorkSource Center), has an innovative partnership with the College of the Canyons' (COC) Employee Training Institute (ETI) and the Center for Applied Competitive Technologies (CACT), that is putting jobseekers to work.

On May 12, they hosted a recruitment event at the College to select candidates for Manufacturing Assembly and Technician Training programs offered through the Employee Training Institute. The top 12 candidates were selected from 78 registrants through an intensive presentation, prescreen, and interview process, which was followed by ACT WorkKeys Assessments. This pre-screening and selection model has proven to be a successful way to re-employ displaced workers who need re-training to become more marketable.

Following training, the Santa Clarita WorkSource Center will work with the College's Career Services to ensure students are "interview ready" by the time they complete the program. Upon graduation, students will participate in a specialized recruitment event with local and regional employers. Many students end up with multiple job offers, while others will continue to work with the WorkSource Center to find the ideal career opportunity.

The WorkSource Center has regularly partnered with College of The Canyons, where they are co-located, to host recruitments for specialized training, which has resulted in a 75 percent placement rate or better for job seekers who complete the training.

EXPUNGEMENT EXPECTATIONS

Our country has the highest rate of incarceration in the world! Yet many are incarcerated for offenses that are not of a serious nature. While this may be seen as being tough on crime, it is also tough to get ex-offenders in to the workforce and away from crime. Many experts recognize that successful re-entry requires sustainable employment.

Record expungement helps eliminate perhaps one of the most serious barriers to re-entry into the work force and society. Community Career Development, Inc. (CCD) which operates the L.A. County funded Compton WorkSource Center meets with lawyers who handle both sides of criminal cases in order to develop a more streamlined and more comprehensive expungement program.

CCD also sponsors monthly expungement workshops at its Compton WorkSource Center that are open to everyone. CCD plans to expand on these workshops to eventually handle multiple expungement cases in a courtroom at one time, with the assistance of pro bono attorneys.

Gloria Moore, Executive Director of CCD, is encouraged by the support and many positive responses she has received about their plans to make re-entry simple, efficient, and painless for the many new jobseekers who have gotten an early release due to AB109.

EXPUNGEMENT ASSISTANCE AND SECOND CHANCE JOB FAIR

On Tuesday April 24, 2012, our Northeast San Fernando Valley WorkSource Center operated by Mission College from the L.A. Community College District, conducted the second Expungement Assistance Workshop (see flyer below). Pam Croft from the San Fernando Public Defenders Office and intern, Christine Fields provided outstanding services to all who attended. Ms. Croft helped to prepare job seekers with resources, options and encouragement. We received a 100% approval rating from our customers for this workshop. There were 80 expungement petitions completed and 56 job seekers that participated in this workshop.

The purpose of this Expungement Assistance Workshop was to prepare our second chance population for our 10th Annual Second Chance Job Fair in August. By going through the expungement process, ex-offenders will have a greater opportunity to find employment. This year's Second Chance Job Fair will be held on Tuesday, August 21, 2012, from 10:00 a.m.-1:00 p.m. (see below). The San Fernando Public Defenders Office has again, committed to conduct another Expungement Assistance Workshop the day of the event.

GOODWILL CONTINUES: Veterans' Success Stories

In volume 2 of the WIA E-Newsletter, the L.A. County WIB's Veterans' Pilot Program (VPP) implemented by Goodwill Southern California was highlighted in the feature story. Goodwill's Female Veterans' Networking Breakfast and Boots to Suits event were also highlighted.

In this volume, we are pleased to report that the VPP and Goodwill continue to make a positive impact on the lives of our Veterans everyday! Goodwill staff have shared a few examples of the on-going positive feedback they receive to show how lives have been touched!

Letter to:

Michael Johnson, Program Manager
Veterans Pilot Program, Goodwill Southern California

My name is Yvette Cowans; I am a Disabled Veteran with over 18 years of naval service. I have been unemployed for nearly 2 and half years. I had struggled to find employment without success. I did take a job in fast food for a period of 6 months in Missouri, at which point I relocated to Southern California. I decided to return to school to complete my Bachelor's Degree in Business Administration. I graduated in September 2010. Many times I felt like giving up but I didn't because I wanted to set a good example for my kids two of which are in college. So, I learned to encourage myself by having a positive attitude. I interviewed with Goodwill Southern California three times, I just kept coming back until someone said "yes".

I'm very passionate about the work I do as a Veterans Pilot Program Assistant. I feel a sense of urgency to get our VETS back to work. I am very thankful and proud to be working at Goodwill for our veterans. This is my opportunity to give back to those who have sacrificed their lives and endured family separations for my freedom and comfort. Thank You.

Sincerely,
Yvette Cowans
Veterans Pilot Program Assistant

Email to:

S. Stone
Veterans Pilot Program, Goodwill Southern California

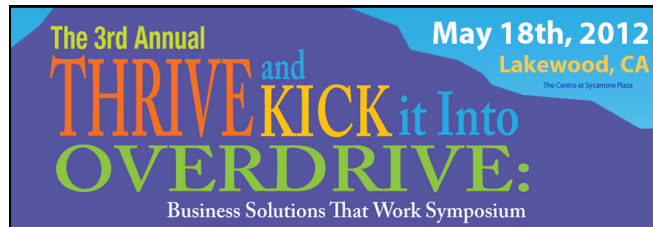

One of the female Veterans (Bridgette Rambo) I brought to the last two Networking Breakfast was hired at Goodwill Southern California as an Attendant at the Donation Center (Culver City ADC Bookstore location). She is one proud Veteran – thanks for everything. Just from coming to the Networking sessions, her spirits were lifted a little higher each time. And when I took her to the interview last week, and they called her the next day and offered her the job- I must say, I have not seen her so "happy" and "excited" about getting hired and starting to work. This experience have changed her life! I explained to her that this is the beginning of the rest of her life. Just to let you know, it works and I believe whole-heartedly.

See you next month at the Networking Breakfast.

HIRING AT LOCAL SOLAR FARM

Success Summary: 35 local residents hired at Solar City!

Business Served: Solar City

So far, in 2012, 35 residents of the Antelope Valley have started working for the local solar farm, Solar City, through concentrated efforts of the WIA case managers at the Antelope Valley WorkSource Center. Employment Development Department Workforce Services staff and onsite partner UAW-LETC have worked together to assist Solar City with recruitment including pre-screening job candidates, facilities for interviewing, and workshops specifically designed for this project.

WIA INTENSIVE SERVICES

Success Summary: WIA Intensive Services helps client succeed in job search

Business Served: International Flight School

Silke Frisby was referred to JVS Antelope Valley for WIA intensive services after visiting the One-Stop Center for job leads and workshops. She was concerned about her age and lack of skills in other fields and was referred to computer training with AVROP. She was assisted by EDD staff to create a professional resume that highlighted her 10 years of experience within the flight training industry and was encouraged to apply with the local flight school. With her new computer skills and previous experience, Silke was offered full time employment as a flight scheduler with the International Flight School in Mojave and now works locally.

BUSINESS SEMINAR

Success Summary: Free resources for local businesses

Business Served: Local Employers in Lancaster and Palmdale

The Antelope Valley WorkSource hosted an Employer Advisory Council meeting with guest speaker, Juan Martin, Regional Manager of Los Angeles County Economic Development Corporation (LAEDC). Mr. Martin shared free resources and programs to help existing and prospective business owners through LAEDC's award-winning Business Assistance Program.

PROFESSIONAL PLUS NETWORKING

Success Summary: Networking and encouragement through the AVPPNG!

Business Served: Various

The Antelope Valley Professionals Plus Networking Group (AVPPNG), a group of unemployed professionals looking to network, share job leads, and research and teach each other about staying competitive in this challenging job market, meets weekly at the Antelope Valley WorkSource. Recently, one member found employment after 10 months of looking for work. She attributed her successful return to work to the WIA funded services provided at the center, including resume writing, workshops, and mock interview services provided by the EDD staff, and the continued encouragement and networking offered through the AVPPNG.

There are over 180 Indian and Native American Grantees in the country and SCIC was awarded this honor due to our Workforce Development program assisting the native community with employment and training services."

AYE of Catholic Charities of Los Angeles
WIA System Youth Program Provider

We are delighted to report that AYE staff completed the CAPE Examiner Training and achieved the highest scores in the class! Examiners are evaluated on prework, Examiner skills (including feedback writing and scoring), attendance, teamwork, and team exercises. Here are AYE scores:

Jose Guadron: 97%

Jan-Michael Medina: 99% And—

Isabel Estrada, Ruby Kakita, Jessie Limon and Rosalinda Montoya all achieved 100%!

Any score above 95% in statewide CAPE Examiner training is a rarity. A perfect score is almost never seen and all perfect scores came from AYE! Of the 31 people in this training class, the average scores fell between 80-90%. Needless to say, AYE staff were Over-Achievers.

Congratulations to the AYE team!
